Bell and his wife were arrested by

Herman Meyer, of the Brooklyn Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Chil-dren, in Astoria, last night, on warrants at a discount of 25 per cent. charging them with a misdemeanor in having wilfully neglected to provide medical attendance to Arthur Morrison Bell, aged thirteen years, now in the Astoria Hospital in a serious condition of health, as a result of his parents' alleged cru-elties and neglect. After the death of Harry English Bell, fourteen year-pid san last Summer.

After the death of Harry English Bell, a fourteen-year-old son, last Summer, there was much talk in Astoria about the apparent unconcern of the parents over the mournful event.

But when a few weeks later Edith, the beautiful sixteen-year-old daughter, died under practically the same circumstances and evidently from the same causes, public indignation became so much aroused that an official investigation was demanded.

much aroused that an official investigation was demanded.
Coroner Brandon, of Newtown, exhumed the wasted body two days after it had been placed in the ground. The stomach of the child was removed and submitted to expert chemists for analysis upon the suspicion that the result might expose a terrible crime.

What the analysis has revealed has not yet been made public. Both the Coroner and Officer Meyer declare that it is not yet completed. The latter, however, intimated to an "Evening World" reporter this morning that the suspicion of foul play had been well founded, and he declared that already enough evidence ad been secured to convict the expect of at least a degree of manalysis.

The couple spent the night in the Queens County Jail, being unable to secure ball, and it is probable that they will occupy a cell there again, as Justice Kavanaugh insists that there shall will occupy a cell there again, as Justice Kavanaugh insists that there shall be two sureties in each case.

Bell is about forty-five years old and has a very shady record, having been several times in the toils of the police. Last Summer he was arrested for criminal libel and was in jall for eight days, when he was released on making a public retraction and apology. The complainant was a rival editor.

On that occasion the Long Island City newspaper published a statement that the woman claiming to be the wife of Bell had no right to the title, and that she was the legal wife of a telegraph operator named Howlett, who had been obliged to separate from her.

She is a comely little woman, about thirty years old, and might pass for good-looking were it not for a cruel look in her big, gray eyes and the harddrawn lines on her face. She appeared more unconcerned over the matter than her husband.

SAY HETTIE IS DISHONEST. Bookbinder's Aunt Says Her Lover Is to Blame.

Hester Bookbinder, seventeen years old, who says she has no home, was at the Eric Basin, Brooklyn, was held sent to the House of the Good Shepherd Court, Williamsburg, to-day on a charge of vasrancy.

Detectives Holland and Dolan, who made the arrest, say that despite her youth the girl has been playing the "Dishonest Servant," and at least two families in Williamsburg have mourned their losses due to her.

The girl's aunt, who appeared against her in court, wanted to have Hester's lover punished.

"This man stands in the background," she says, "and I believe he put her up to all this crooked work."

The woman did not tell the man's name.

During the past two nights it is estimated that 1,000 bushels of choice bivalves have been stolen from the beds owned by Capt. John Boerum, near Pumpkin Patch, off Canarsie, and Capt. James Greer, of the Raunt.

The robbers visited Capt. Boerum's beds on Sunday night. He was awakened by the noise and frightened the men away by threatening to shoot.

Capt. Greer discovered men at work on his beds last night. He jumped into his yawl and pulled out towards the boat in which the thieves were and they fied. Capt. Greer's description of the pirate craft tailles with that of Capt. Boerum. They say she is a low craft, with a stubby must and a big patch on the main-sail.

FIRE CRIPPLED THE WIRES.

Slight Blaze Does Considerable Damage in the Long Island City Depot. LONG ISLAND CITY, Dec 27 .- A fire in the Long Island City mailroad Depot here this morning did considerable damage to the telegraph facilities.

Most of the batteries were destroyed, and the service was so badly crippled that railroad business was impeded to a very considerable extent. There was but slight damage to the building.

Good Democrats These. The Eighth Ward Democratic Association, of Brooklyn, has set a good example to political clubs and sacistics by resolving itself into a re-lifer association. It will collect measy, provisions and clothing, and distribute them systematically.

REV. AND MRS. BELL IN COURT. LONG ISLAND CITY'S PLIGHT.

Can Sell Her Bonds.

LONG ISLAND CITY, Dec. 27.-Mayor city bonds. During the eleven months worth of bonds have been issued, but tempting appeals to moneyed men have been made by Mr. Sunford.

The city is now threatened with bankruptcy. It has recently issued three series of bonds, and is now paying off

The bonds issued for finishing the different schools amount to $150,000. Not one dollar's worth of those can find a purchaser, and many of the schools are yet incompleted, necessitating the closing of them on cold days. This is particularly the case regarding the First Ward School, which cost nearly $250,000 and is yet uncompleted and in charge of a Republican Commission appointed by Gov. Flower two years ago.

The floating indebtedness bonds, amounting to $155,000, are also unsold, and the city is at present in a very bad financial shape. The funded debt bonds, issued to fund a part of the bonded indebtedness of the city, are also without a purchaser.

Under ex-Mayor Gleason's administration the bonded debt of the city was $1,300,000. Now it is nearly $2,500,000. Hundreds of outstanding bilis are dependent on the sale of these bonds. ferent schools amount to $150,000. No
